Please join Rhode Island KIDS COUNT for the 2025 Newport Data in Your Backyard

The Rhode Island KIDS COUNT Data in Your Backyard series presents community-level child well-being data from the Rhode Island KIDS COUNT Factbook in communities across the state. These presentations are followed by a community discussion. Local leaders, educators, service providers, and other interested community members are encouraged to attend.

Each year Rhode Island KIDS COUNT publishes city and town level data in the annual Factbook. All available information has been compiled in an easy-to-read format for each city or town in the state. Please see the Newport Community Profile, Middletown Community Profile, and Portsmouth Community Profile at this interactive page: <https://rikidscount.org/community-profiles/>
